Dairymen may be missing a good practice by not increasing their acreage of alfalfa. Nearly 10 years ago we experienced a drastic drop in alfalfa acreage due to the alfalfa weevil. With the new insecticides that became available this year, there is little reason to consider the alfalfa weevil a major problem.

All dairymen are well aware that protein has doubled in cost over the past year. Many dairymen began using oats as a substitute for alfalfa hay. The big problem with oat hay is its low protein value and low mineral and vitamin content.

Oat hay will average 6.4% protein while alfalfa will average 15% protein. Feeding oat hay requires a higher level of protein than would be required if alfalfa hay was in the ration.

The calcium level of oat hay runs about 1% while the calcium level of alfalfa hay is better than 5%.

Several dairymen have found that a spring seeding of alfalfa is just as good and possibly better than a fall seeding when Eptam is applied prior to seeding to control annual grass and weed.

It appears that this would be a good year to return alfalfa to the feeding program for dairy cattle.

This month USDA will begin a nationwide survey to collect information about the dollars spent and purchases made by farm people for family living needs.

It's been 20 years since such a survey was made. This information will be used to develop an index that will provide guidelines for farm policy and programs. This will also help establish the economic impact of the Nation's 2.8 million farms.

Programs that could be affected are: procedures for allocating public assistance funds, food stamps, eligibility for rural development and similar programs.

The survey will be a sampling process. Four counties in Virginia are included–Appomattox, Patrick, Prince George and Rockbridge. Sample farms within these counties will be visited in April, July and January 1974 to collect data.

The information will be kept confidential and only regional and national summaries will be published.

Farm families in Appomattox County are being asked to cooperate in this survey.

Three programs have been planned for those interested in landscape design and flowers.

A Landscape Design Study Course will be held at Virginia Tech June 11-14 and a Flower Show School will be held at Virginia Tech August 6-9.

August 22-25 the Annual Garden Lovers Short Course will be held. Interested persons can obtain additional information from this office.

Tobacco growers will find a soil sample particularly helpful this year. Because of the heavy and prolonged rains over the past 7 months, there is less residual fertilizer available for this year's crop.

Last fall flue tobacco growers who did not sidedress with extra nitrogen and potash found that their tobacco was down in yield and quality and consequently sold for a lower price.

Your Dollars Will Help

April is Cancer Control Month. When your American Cancer Society volunteer knocks on your door, remember that your dollars can help bring the victory over cancer a little nearer.

Modernistic Club News Bulletin

A very nice audience turned out for Sunday School at Galilee Baptist Church Sunday, April 8 at 10 o'clock. The theme for Sunday "Christ Suffered for us." Everyone who attended gained helpful information from the lesson. The offering for the day was liberal as usual.

A very inspiring service was held at First Baptist Church Sunday. The Rev. Mr. Meys Saintyie, a student of Virginia College, Lynchburg, preached an excellent sermon from the subject "Christ the King." The Rev. Meys Saintyie, is a native of Hatti.

A very nice crowd turned out for service. A few visitors were in attendance at the morning worship. Mrs. James was back Sunday at her post, as organist for the Senior Choir of First Baptist after an absence of several months. The music rendered by the choir was very beautiful and was enjoyed by all present.

Mrs. Hamlet is sponsoring a Talent Program at First Baptist Church, on the fifth Sunday in the month at 7:30 p.m. you will hear more about the program very soon.

The Promise land Missionary Circle sponsored an excellent program Sunday at 3 p.m. This was their annual Woman's Day program. A very appreciative number came and took an active part on the program. Those who attended the program were greatly lifted up. The offering for the day was very liberal.

In and Out of town over the week end:

Mrs. Beamon and little son attended Sunday School at Galilee Baptist Sunday morning. The school was very glad to have had them come.

Mr. Edward M. Tibbs is visiting his mother and sister, Mesdames Lucy Tibbs and Modessa Jordan. Mr. Tibbs resides in Philadelphia, Pa. He seems to be enjoying his stay here this short visit.

Mr. Lindsay Fleshman and some friends from Kitrell College, N.C., visited his mother and family, Mrs. Clara McFoy, this week end. The boys expressed having a very enjoyable time.

Mr. Richard Dennis, from Winston Salem, N.C., is visiting Mr. and Mrs. William B. Turner, of Spout Spring, while here he will visit many of his old friends.

Ms. Lillie C. Claytor spent the week end in Salem, Va., visiting relatives and friends. While in Salem, she will attend the dedication service of her home town church, which has been in progress since last week.

See you next week!!!

P. S. Ms. Dorothy Stevens is improving, after falling down a pair of stairs Sunday. We trust that Mrs. Stevens will soon be up and around again.
